

Responsibilities of authors

1. You warrant that any material you submit is your own original work and that you own the copyright and any other relevant rights.
2. Reproduction permissions: it is the responsibility of the contributor to obtain reproduction permissions for the inclusion of any use of literary, dramatic, musical, artistic, photographic, film or any other work for which you do not own the copyright. Please notify any copyright holders of our use of Creative Commons (see Republishing your contribution below). Please supply reproduction permissions provided by the copyright holder to the editorial team
3. You warrant that the material you submit is not obscene, offensive or otherwise illegal.
4. You will take reasonable steps to ensure that any material you submit is not defamatory of any person. If you suspect that material may be defamatory (or if you are not sure), you must notify the editors at the time you submit the material.

Republishing your contribution

All contributions published online by Hyphen are done so under a Creative Commons – Attribution/ NonCommercial/ NoDerivatives – License (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0). This means that material published by Hyphen is free to be re-published by third parties provided the following criteria are met. Apart from this permission, the copyright in the material rests with the author.

1. The work is not altered, transformed, or built upon, and is published in full.
2. The work is attributed to the author and Hyphen.
3. The work is not used for any commercial purposes.

The above is only a summary, the full license can be accessed at Creative Commons licenses.

If you have any questions regarding the guidelines above, please contact the editorial team.